The Sun Continues

E. F. Bunch, who on December 1, 1934, sold the Carmel Sun to A. E. Pfremmer and Eiretta Pfremmer, has brought suit against the purchasers. In the suit she seeks authority to foreclose a mortgage to satisfy a balance which she alleges is due her and which the purchasers refuse to pay in any part. Mrs. Bunch is represented by Atty. Ryker of Monterey and Atty. Ross of Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Pfremmer, through their attorney, J. W. Lenahan, of Monterey, are defending themselves in the action with a counter-suit, in which they allege that fraud and misrepresentation was practiced in the sale of the paper, and demand a rescission of contract, together with a return of the cash paid at the time of purchase, return of the notes and damages for loss sustained by the purchasers as the result of such alleged misrepresentations relative to the paper's circulation and advertising patronage.

The Pfremmers are still in possession of the paper and expect to retain possession, but until the case is (Continued on last page)

Kite Festival Colorful Affair

For the fourth consecutive year, Ted Marble won first place for highest flying kite at Carmel's Annual Kite Festival held Sunday at Hatton Fields. Frankie "ayford" was second and Mya Miyamoto, third. Bernard Rowntree, Ross Miller and John Catlin were the judges. In the younger class of high flyers, Burns McDonald was the victor.

Joe De Amaral won first for best kite, with Spencer Kern second and LaVerne Vierra third. Of the younger boys in this entry, Baird Bardarson was first; Alex Allen second, and Douglas Calley third. Mrs. Ralph Coote, Miss Ruth Huntington, and Miss Hazel Watrous were the judges.

Of the older boys, Ronald Dorsett had the oddest kite, with Allen McConnell, second. Winners among the younger entrants were La Vere De Amaral first, Adelino Guth second, and Dan Davidson third. Judges for this event were the Rev. Austin B. Chinn, Major Ralph Coote and Mrs. Ross Miller.

Many and varied were the Filipino kites entered. Among the 15 entrants in the fighting kite division, first honors were won by Nick Cacayan; second by Tony Torres, and third by Pedro Illeto.

Reverend Wallis G. White was sponsor of the kite festival and Reverend Melvin Dorsett was in general charge.

"As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily." These words from Colossians comprise the Golden Text to be used

Sunday, March 3, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Christ Jesus." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Then cried Jesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me" (John 7: 28, 29).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could any man whose origin was less spiritual. By his obedience to God, he demonstrated more spiritually than all others the Principle of being... We must go and do likewise; else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us" (p. 25).

SOCIAL CREDIT GAINING LARGE FOLLOWING

Among the distinguished students and advocates of Social Credit is Walter Hampden, world-famous Shakespearean actor, now enjoying a rest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Paul Dougherty, at Carmel Highlands. Mr. Hampden will be present at the meeting of the local Social Credit study group this Thursday evening, February 28, in the art room of the Sunset School and it is hoped that he will have a few words to say on the subject. Miss Bary Bulaly will open the meeting.

DCN STANIFORD HEADS SERRA FESTIVAL GROUP

Don Staniford was such a successful general chairman of the Serra Festival last year that he was reappointed to act in that capacity again this summer, when the Carmel Serra Drama officials met last Wednesday with the Rev. Michael D. O'Connell at the Carmel Mission. Present at the meeting were Frederic Burt, Tom Thienes, James Cockburn and Harry Downey.

Thanksgiving Food and Kitchen Sale

All Saints' Church of Carmel is having a Thanksgiving Year, which means that everything undertaken shall be in the spirit of "Thanksgiving." Consequently, All Saints Guild has arranged for next Saturday, March 2, a Thanksgiving Kitchen and Food sale, which is to be held in the large showrooms of the Carmel Garage, through the courtesy of Mr. L. H. Levinson. There, at a moderate price, one may purchase home-made pies, cakes, cookies and candy. In addition, there will be smocks and linens, dear to the hearts of all housewives and all sorts of novel and useful kitchen "gadgets" to make the wheels of kitchen life run more smoothly. The choir and Sunday school will each have its own little stall and the children have already entered into the spirit of a "thanks offering."

The rector, the Reverend Austin B. Chinn, and Mrs. Chinn are wholeheartedly helping the Guild president, Mrs. John W. Dickinson, and her army of enthusiastic and willing helpers. Among these are the following:

Mrs. C. Rose, late president; Miss H. Barnes, treasurer; Miss B. Henderson, secretary; Mrs. Alfred W. Wheldon; Mrs. James McIntyre; Mrs. George Reamer; Mrs. Cooper Anderson; Mrs. Chamberlayne; Mrs. Vera Peck Millis; Mrs. C. Kennedy; Miss C. Gifford, and several other ladies.

Mrs. John Jordan has consented to act as vice-chairman of the knowledge and interest to strengthen the committee, bringing her then the hands of the Guild.

Attractive posters have already made their appearance in the store windows and on the street, these being the work of local artists, who, each and all, in so doing, have added their quota to the Thanksgiving spirit. Artists who have contributed their skill are: Miss D'Arcy Gaw, Miss M. De Neale Morgan, Miss C. Scovel, Mr. Walls and others.

Miss Dorothy Crippen of Palo Alto was in Carmel Sunday.

Woman's Club March Meetings

Section meetings of the Carmel Woman's club during the first week in March will be as follows:

The book section will meet on Wednesday, March 6, at 10 a. m. at the Girl Scout house. A group of ladies will review the following books, each review to last 15 minutes: Mrs. Louise Hasty, "Lamb in His Bosom"; Miss Ginevra Pierce, "Now in November"; Mrs. Mabel Turner, "Dew on the Grass"; and Miss Agnes Knight, "A Child Went Forth."

On Thursday, March 7, the garden section will meet at 10 a. m. at the residence of Mrs. I. N. Ford, Eleventh and Junipero streets. Mrs. Morris McK. Wild will give a talk on "The Fragrant Garden."

The next regular monthly meeting of the Woman's club will be held on Monday, March 4, at 2:30 p. m., at the Girl Scout House. The special program for the day will feature Alice Weaver in "Dramatic Vignettes." This program of various impersonations in costume was recently given at the Berkeley "Town and Gown Club," and considered most entertaining and successful. Serving of tea will follow and a social get-together hour, the hospitality committee sponsoring the refreshments.

EDWARD KUSTER OPENS CARMEL SEASON

The Fresno Players as guest artists will present "Another Language" in The Playhouse this Saturday and Sunday nights, March 2 and 3, under the direction of Edward Kuster.

To those who know the work of Edward Kuster, his decision to open a season of music and drama here will be the cause for rejoicing. Always an idealist, Mr. Kuster has sought to give Carmel the best, regardless of the cost. His Golden Bough Theatre is unique in its beauty and it seems a shame that it is not being used as originally intended.

The Golden Bough Players, under Mr. Kuster's direction, will return the visit of the Fresno Players in April, presenting the delightful Viennese comedy, "By

RIPPLES

FROM THE BIG SUR

Mrs. W. C. Everett

Mrs. Carl Voss of Salinas, chairman of a study group of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters, addressed the Musers when they met on Thursday last with Mrs. W. C. Everett as hostess at the home of Mrs. Everett Powell.

The listeners were enthused by the recital of the accomplishments of the women in our state and in the entire country. Mrs. Voss is an inspiring speaker upon this subject that is nearest to her heart.

We are pleased to announce that the Ross-Nowell road is nearing completion and the friends of those families will soon be able to drive into their yards when they go to call. Also the next meeting of the Musers will be with Mrs. Ross on March 7.

A community picnic is to be given next Sunday, March 3, to which all the community is invited to come with well-filled baskets. The event will take place under the trees at San Jose camp where long tables will be laid. A program is to be arranged, also, and a matter of community interest discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Everett enjoyed a visit from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ekdahl, a week ago Sunday. The Ekdahls live in Alameda.

Candlelight, Fresno critics have been enthusiastic over the work of Mr. Kuster and will undoubtedly support any production taken there by him.

Prices for the engagement here of the Fresno Players have been lowered to popular prices so that seats may be available to all.

Edward Kuster will return from Fresno tomorrow to make final arrangements for the production of "Another Language," to be given here in the Carmel Playhouse this Saturday and Sunday, March 2 and 3, by the Fresno Players as a guest performance.

The SUN GARDEN NOOK

Mrs. F. Austin Phillips.

Mrs. Phillips writes regularly for the Sun and will gladly answer through our columns any questions addressed to her at the office of the Carmel Sun.

POT POURRI

You will find listed below a few new and some specialties for 1935, and one or two old "stand-bys" which seem to have been forgotten.

Rosea Bougainvillea is a luscious strawberry-pink in color and is a vine which grows as vigorously as its sister, the Magenta Bougainvillea and requires as little attention. It should not be placed in a very exposed place.

Another fine bougainvillea is called "Bronze Lake." Its lovely bronze-gold clusters, against rather soft green foliage, are very beautiful. Neither of these vines is as tender as the "Crimson Lake."

A vine with sky-blue blossoms, growing in huge clusters, is called Distictis Cinerea. It is a rapid grower and blooms eight months a year. All this vine asks for is sunshine with plenty of moisture.

Have you seen the red-flowering honeysuckle? This sweet-scented, evergreen vine makes a fine covering, but does not spread as much as the other honeysuckles.

The old-fashioned Calycanthus Floridus, or sweet shrub, seems to have been overlooked entirely. It is a most interesting shrub with chocolate brown flowers, and is deliciously scented.

If you have not a Bouvardia shrub in your garden, especially if you like cut flowers, be sure to order one. This low-growing shrub has slender branches with clusters of tubular flowers which flare at the edges in colors ranging from pink to rose, also coral and white.

It is most decorative, and, when cut, lasts for days.

A new Canterbury Bell is on the market and promises blooms at almost any time during the year. Six months after planting the seed, you should have two to two and one half feet tall plants with six to eight spikes of bells. This plant will flower continuously, if cut.

One may purchase snapdragons guaranteed to be 95 per cent rust-proof. This new annual could safely be called a perennial, since the plant is free from the devastating attacks of rust, blooms continuously, season after season. The colors have improved, too. Lovely soft pastel shades to the more imposing maroons, purples, etc.

The Russian Rat-tail Statice is an especially beautiful soft-pink flower. It is invaluable when mixed with other flowers in a bouquet. It grows very easily in almost any soil. This flower should not be mistaken for sea statice. This grows in long, slender tails, which sometimes twist in such a manner as to resemble a Russian rat's tail.

Old, common Pentstemon is a plant so many of us overlook. Yet it grows in almost any location and at any season of the year. It is in bloom when everything else seems through and requires practically no attention at all. When several of these plants are in bloom at one time, it offers a gorgeous display of color. I plant dozens of these flowers in out-of-the-way places and can always count on them for my bouquets. Many improved varieties are being shown this year. I think you will like them.

There is a new double Coreopsis with all the good points of the old single flower. It is easily grown, floriferous and hardy. Its graceful, golden-yellow bloom combines quite well with almost all decorations.

Would you not like to add to your collection of carnations such names as Navajo and Treasure Chest? The Navajo has light, golden-buff petals with long arrows of orange-coral. The foliage is soft green with almost a silver gleam. The Treasure Chest could be nothing else but burnished gold, heavily inlaid with deep, rosy carlet.

GARDEN NOTES

Now is the time to slip your fuchias. Cuttings should be taken from soft green growth and the leaves at tip should be left on, although it is best to cut off the upper half of each leaf to reduce evaporation. These sunny days are fine for painting window boxes and flower pots.

"BENNIE PRINCE CHARLIE"

TO OPEN SCOTTISH PLAYS

The Scottish Musical Players, now completing the second half of a trans-continental tour, via Canada and the United States, will be in Carmel on Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9. The Denny-Watrous Gallery has arranged for this professional group of players from Scotland to give three plays in the Sunset School Auditorium: opening with "Bennie Prince Charlie" on Friday, March 8, playing "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" for Saturday matinee, and "The Cotter's Saturday Night" on Saturday evening, March 9.

From the most enthusiastic press reviews from Detroit, Toronto, Vancouver, and many other places, the Scottish singing actors give with the utmost simplicity an evening of mirth, melody and moving drama. According to Len Shaw, critic on the Detroit Free Press, "It was worth a trip to the Cass Theatre just to hear Gordon Douglas sing 'Home o' Mine,' or to see Flora McMahon and hear her in the lilting Scotch ballads, 'Within a mile o' Edinboro Toon,' 'Fair Fra' the Gieamin' and many other well-known airs will be sung in solo and by full cast.

Coming attractions to the Denny-Watrous Gallery, outside of the Latvian Singers and the Scottish Musical Players, include the Kingsland Marionettes, afternoon and evening, March 16; Sumas MacLennan, Irish writer and lecturer, Sunday evening, March 17; Alis Young Maruché's, playing the viola and the viola damore on Saturday evening, April 6; Marie Montana, soprano, the Abas String Quartet, the Ben-Clement-Ben Trio.

Notable for a departure in drama is Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author," which Beverly Wright has in rehearsal and which the Gallery will present in late March or early April. Miss Wright comes equipped with study in the school of Max Reinhardt in Vienna and Salzburg, having had experience in all lines of the theatre, as actor, technical director, director, costumer, translator, —in fact all the branches of the theatre art.

ANNIVERSARIES CELEBRATED

Anniversaries were celebrated all around Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. George Vye, each of whom was celebrating a birthday anniversary, entertained about 30 friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Joselyn, who were celebrating the anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Herrmann were down from Berkeley over the week-end. They were guests at Pine Inn.

*Good Eyes need Good Light
Impaired Sight demands it*

GOOD EYES are a very precious possession. Of all the senses—seeing is the very last thing anyone would wish to damage.

Once damaged, eyes can never be repaired or replaced. We can only help them by wearing glasses prescribed by an eye specialist. But even then, the best of glasses cannot completely restore the full healthy vision of eyes damaged by abuse.

Most good eyesight becomes poor eyesight because good eyes are abused by straining to see in bad light.

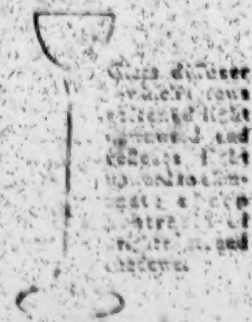

It is so easy today to have good lighting. Electricity is plentiful and low in cost. And modern lamps are scientifically designed to give proper diffusion of light without harmful glare.

Below is pictured a lamp of scientifically correct design. Note its modern features. Compare it with the lamps you are using in your home. You should have at least one of these lamps in your living room and on the children's study table.

LATVIAN SINGERS THIS COMING SATURDAY NIGHT

The Latvian Singers, some 15 in number, appear in the DennyWatrous Gallery this Saturday evening, March 2, at 8:30 o'clock, presenting the Great Vespers of the Russian Church, preceded by a Carnival.

The program will open with scenes from the Russian Carnival which precedes Lent. Dancing, singing, episodes of peasant life in a Russian village during a festival begin the evening. Then the bell rings which marks the advent of Lent, and all other sound instantly ceases. Total darkness envelops the auditorium, which is symbolic of the darkness that enfolded the world before the coming of Christ. Into it comes a single candle, brought to the foot of the altar which is at the base of the stage in the main auditorium, by one who comes singing. Others follow in the same manner, until the chant is finished. The solemnity of an Eastern temple pervades the evening. A candle bearer, priest and deacon proceed through the auditorium with incense, women appear with the winding sheet, bread, wine and oil, singing prayers. During the Great Litany, the Ceremony of the Flowers takes place, during which everyone in the audience within reach of the distributor will receive a flower.

The Gradual, the Epistle, the Procession and the Service of the Artoklasia follow, using the aisles of the Gallery as well as the stage and altar space. Words do not convey just what the Great Vespers are like. It is an impressive bit of pageantry, ritualism, given reverently and authentically,—transferred from the closed church of Russia—to Carmel for a night.
